APPLICATION INSTRUCTIONS

Spray wherever fragrance is desired. Scents are often applied to pulse points. Pulse points are locations on the body where blood vessels are closest to the skin (wrists, behind the ears, base of the throat, inside the crook of your elbow, behind knees and inside ankles). The skin is warmer in these areas, which can help fragrance evolve and provide a better sensory experience.

Allow the fragrance to mist onto your skin. If the area feels wet, you may be holding the bottle too close. You will begin to smell the fullness of the fragrance within a few minutes, once the top notes are released.
