WHEN

or

WHY

Removes four times more dirt, oil, impurities, makeup and pollutants than hand-cleansing alone.

Preps skin for the next step in your skin care routine.

Exfoliating removes dead skin cells from the surface layer of the skin, which allows newer cells to take their place.

Retinol is not an exfoliator. Its primary function is to support the natural production of collagen and elastin. While it does also encourage cell turnover, it is not an exfoliator.
